2006-07 OUTLOOK

This year's Old Dominion University golf squad will be deep with five lettermen returning and a strong recruiting class. The Monarch returnees include Christopher Barach, Stan Guerrero, Kyle Hartlaub, Jeffrey Long and Matthew Watson. Newcomers include Brandon Detweiler, John Murphy, Eric Onesi, and red shirt freshman Matthew Rendell.

Last year, ODU had five top five finishes and 12 top ten finishes. Already this Fall, the Monarchs have posted four top five finishes, including the Joe Agee tournament title.

"This has been one of the best Fall seasons in a number of years," said ODU head coach Murray Rudisill. "We have had seven players who have played well in tournaments and all have been under par at least once this fall."

Stan Guerrero has paced the Monarchs thus far. The junior from Tijuana, Mexico tied for first at the Raines tournament before losing in a three-hole playoff. He also tied for tenth at Mid Pines. Jeffrey Long led the nation in par five scoring, placed fourth at Duke and tenth at the Joe Agee tournament. Matt Watson, who earned second team All-CAA and All-State honors last year tied for tenth at the Mid Pines in the fall, and placed for fourth at ODU/Seascape.

Monarch newcomers have some outstanding credentials and are already showing promise for the future. Delaware High School state champion and three-time Delaware junior boys champion Eric Onesi tied for second at the ODU Seascape tied for fourth at Mid Pines and seventh at Joe Agee and Eric has been nominated for the USA vs. China matches next July. Red-shirt freshman Matthew Rendell, who hails from Reading, England, tied for 20th at Duke. Brandon Detweiler won IJGT tournaments at Heritage Hills and Golden Horseshoe, and John Murphy comes to ODU from the Ledbetter Academy in Bradenton, FL.

Once again, the Monarchs will be playing some of the toughest competition in the southeast this season as they look to continue the proud tradition of success that has become a staple of the Old Dominion golf program.

The new Lambert's Point golf course, that opened in 2005 next to the ODU campus provides the Monarchs with state of the art locker room facilities, office space and practice facilities.

"The impact of the four freshmen has really changed the dynamics of the team," said Rudisill. "The new players have pushed the upper classmen and all four have shown the ability to shoot low scores. John Murphy shot 64 the second round of the William and Mary tournament and Eric Onesi has been under par in six rounds this Fall with a 64 at the ODU/Seascape event. These guys have helped move the team into the nation's top 50 this fall and the team finished 6th in the nation in par 5 scoring (4.70)."

Dr. Murray Rudisill Head Coach

A five-time conference and four-time Virginia State Coach-of-the-Year, Dr. Murray Rudisill has been the head coach at Old Dominion University for 31 years. During his tenure, the Monarch program has grown into one of the top rated teams in the Southeast. Last year, the Monarchs had 12 top ten finishes and five individual top Five finishes, with one win.

In 2004, the Monarchs took second at the Colonial Athletic Association Championships, and Rudisill was named Virginia College Coach of the Year. In 2003, ODU captured their first ever CAA championship with a sudden death playoff win over UNC Wilmington. That earned the Monarchs their first ever NCAA team tournament appearance. The Monarchs tied for 15th at the West Regionals. Geoffrey Harris was named CAA Player of the Year for the second straight time and also earned All-Region honors. Harris was also one of five finalists for the prestigious Byron Nelson Award.

Rudisill earned CAA Coach of the Year honors in 2003 which adds to his previous honors in 1999 and 2000 along with Coach of the Year honors in the Sun Belt in 1984 and 1989. He was selected Virginia College Coach of the Year by the Portsmouth Sports Club in 1988, and his fellow coaches in the State of Virginia have selected him Coach of the Year in the state in 1988, 2000, 2003 and 2004.

Rudisill has served on the board of Directors for the Virginia State Golf Association, and is serving his fourth, five-year term as chairman of the Virginia State Golf Coaches Association. Additionally, he has served as chairman for the selection committee for the NCAA Golf District III. Rudisill is a member of the board of trustees of College Golf Fellowship.

Two of Rudisill's former golfers, Jim McGovern and Joe Daley qualified for the PGA tour in 1998. In 1991, Jon Hurst became the first Monarch to qualify at the NCAA Division I Championships in Monterey, CA, and earned All-American honors. Hurst along with Alan Schulte, a two-time Sun Belt Conference champion are both in the ODU Sports Hall of Fame.

Rudisill has coached back-to-back CAA Rookie's of the Year in Michael Hospodar in 1999 and Geoffrey Harris in 2000. The 1999 Monarch squad ranked first in the nation in par three scoring at 3.11. The 2000 squad lost the CAA Championships by one stroke and ranked in the top ten in the district and the nation's top 50.

In 2002, Geoffrey Harris ranked as high as second nationally with a stroke average at 70.0 after the fall season, and later competed in the prestigious Palmer Cup for native Great Britain against team USA.

Strengthening his reputation as an excellent golfer with top performances in regional and amateur events, Rudisill has teamed with Old Dominion Hall of Fame golfer J.P. Leigh to win over 50 tournaments in the area.

A native of Gastonia, NC, Rudisill is a 1960 graduate of North Carolina State University where he was a member of the golf team. Rudisill earned his masters degree from the University of North Carolina and moved to Hampton Roads and the Tidewater Community College System in 1968. He was awarded a doctorate in Curriculum/ Instruction from the University of Florida in 1972 and joined the Old Dominion faculty that same year. He retired from teaching in May of 2004.
