2008-09 OUTLOOK

This year's Old Dominion University squad will feature three freshmen along with some key veterans as the Monarchs look to challenge for another Colonial Athletic Association crown which they have won twice since 2003.

ODU returns two All-CAA selections from a year ago in junior Eric Onesi and Jeffrey Long. Over the summer Onesi placed second at the prestigious Eastern Amateur and won the Delaware State Amateur. Long placed seventh at the Virginia State Open.

The Monarchs also return Matthew Rendell and Matt Watson. New to the ODU roster are freshman Neil Henderson from North Berwick, Scotland; Steven Loer from Sarasota, FL; and Thomas Wilde from Berkshire, England as well as sophomore Karson Hill from Portsmouth, Va. Seth Norman will red-shirt this year.

Last year, ODU placed 10th or better in nine tournaments, and fifth or better in seven. The Monarchs captured first place at Hartford, and took second at Mid Pines and the CAA Championships. One of the Monarchs key losses was 2007 Scholar All-American Stan Guerrero who earned All-CAA honors as a senior and became the first golfer wince All-American Jon Hurst to win ODU's Male Athlete of the Year award.

2 "We started off the fall with some strong tournaments and did not play very well," said Rudisill. "With three freshmen in the starting line-up it just took a while for them to become comfortable with the pressure of college golf. We are looking forward to a strong spring season."

After a slow start to the Fall season, the Monarchs finished with a rush, placing sixth at Savannah and winning the ODU/Seascape tournament. Freshman Thomas Wilde tied for fourth at the ODU Seascape, while fellow freshman Neil Henderson tied for 11th at Savannah. Eric Onesi placed 12th at Maryland's tournament and Jeffrey Long was the Monarchs top golfer at VCU's tournament.

The future looks very bright for the Monarchs. In three of ODU's five fall tournaments, the newcomers were the Monarchs top performers. Henderson won the Scotland School stroke championship, Loer was a two-time Florida Regional champion and won the State title as a freshman, while Wilde was a member of his region's under-21 squad in England.

Once again the Monarchs will be playing some of the toughest competition in the southeast as they look to continue the proud tradition of success that has become a staple of the Old Dominion golf program.

The Lambert's Point golf course that opened in 2005 next to the ODU campus provides the Monarchs with state-of-the-art locker room facilities, office space and practice facilities.

"Our schedule is very strong again with a number of national tournaments," said Rudisill. "We open in the Spring in Puerto Rico and then Pinehurst. We also travel to Charlotte, NC, Greenville, SC, and Scottsdale, AZ. Our conference Championship will be held at the famous Callaway Gardens golf resort in Georgia."

DR. MURRAY RUDISILL

HEAD COACH

Asix-time conference and five-time Virginia State Coach of the Year, Dr. Murray Rudisill has been the head coach at Old Dominion University for 33 years. During his tenure, the Monarch program has grown into one of the top rated teams in the Southeast, with ODU capturing two CAA titles since 2003. Over the summer, Eric Onesi finished second at the prestigious Eastern Amateur, and Jeffrey Long placed seventh at the Virginia State Open.

In 2007, the Monarchs captured the CAA title and advanced to the NCAA East Regional. Rudisill was named Coach of the Year in the CAA and state of Virginia. During the summer of 2007, Eric Onesi and Stan Guerrero competed in the prestigious USGA Amateur Championships in San Francisco.

In 2004, the Monarchs took second at the Colonial Athletic Association Championships and Rudisill was named Virginia College Coach of the Year. In 2003, ODU captured its first CAA championship with a sudden death playoff win over UNC Wilmington, and the Monarchs tied for 15th at the West Regional. Geoffrey Harris was named CAA Player of the Year for the second straight time and also earned All-Region honors. Harris was also one of five finalists for the prestigious Byron Nelson Award.

Rudisill earned CAA Coach of the Year honors in 2003, adding to his previous honors in 1999 and 2000, along with Coach of the Year honors in the Sun Belt in 1984 and 1989. He was selected Virginia College Coach of the Year by the Portsmouth Sports Club in 1988, and his fellow coaches in Virginia have selected him Coach of the Year in the state in 1988, 2000, 2003, 2004, and 2007.

Rudisill has served on the Board of Directors for the Virginia State Golf Association, and is serving his fourth, five-year term as chairman of the Virginia State Golf Coaches Association. Additionally, he has served as chairman for the selection committee for the NCAA Golf Tournament in District III. Rudisill is a member of the Board of Trustees of the College Golf Fellowship.

Two of Rudisill's former golfers, Jim McGovern and Joe Daley, qualified for the PGA tour in 1998, and McGovern again in 2008. In 1991, Jon Hurst became the first Monarch to qualify at the NCAA Division I Championships in Monterey, CA, and earned All-American honors. Hurst along with Alan Schulte, a two-time Sun Belt Conference champion, are both in the ODU Sports Hall of Fame.

Rudisill has coached three CAA Rookies of the Year in Michael Hospodar in 1999, Geoffrey Harris in 2000, and Eric Onesi in 2007. The 1999 Monarch squad ranked first in the nation in par three scoring at 3.11. The 2000 squad lost the CAA championships by one stroke and ranked in the top 10 in the district and the nation's top 50.

In 2002, Geoffrey Harris ranked as high as second nationally with a stroke average at 70.0 after the fall season, and later competed in the prestigious Palmer Cup for native Great Britain against team USA.

Strengthening his reputation as an excellent golfer with top performances in regional and amateur events, Rudisill has teamed with Old Dominion Hall of Fame golfer J.P. Leigh to win over 50 tournaments in the area.

A native of Gastonia, NC, Rudisill is a 1960 graduate of North Carolina State University where he was a member of the golf team. Rudisill earned his masters degree from the University of North Carolina and moved to Hampton Roads and the Tidewater Community College System in 1968. He was awarded a doctorate in Curriculum/ Instruction from the University of Florida in 1972 and joined the Old Dominion faculty that same year. He retired from teaching in May of 2004.
